

Ed Boyd

After graduation I worked as a transmission mechanic. Then I went into the U.S. Coast Guard. I returned home and lived with my parents. In 1959 I meet my future wife Ceal Lamb. She lived in Toledo, Ohio.

We married in 1961. We lived in Troy, MI for a few years, Then moved to Sterling Heights, MI. We had three children while we lived in MI, two sons and a daughter. Our oldest son Chad was born in 1965, our second son Brett was born in 1967. Our daughter Keri was born in 1973. I then began a new career as a business machine technician. I was promoted to Branch Manager, and later promoted to Regional Manager in Chicago,IL.

In 1976 we moved to Columbia, SC. with an opportunity to go into sales. This was our first time to live in the South. Though it was very different from our way of life in Detroit, we learned to love it. In Columbia I worked four years for Xerox Corp. as a salesman. I then took a sales position selling medical supplies. That lead to a position with a medical co. selling Cardiovascular invasive products for a new approach to replace open heart surgery. It was called Balloon Angioplasty. This was 1980 and brand new to South Carolina and the U.S.

We moved to Charlotte, NC. in 1986 to further my career. It was during this time that our two sons went to college at David Lipscomb University in Nashville, TN.

In 1989 we moved to Atlanta, GA I was promoted to a Division Manager in the same co. It was during this time that our daughter also went to college at David Lipscomb University in Nashville TN.

In 1990 I took a promotion with a competitive medical co. as Director of U.S. Sales. This was a great opportunity for me. The co. was located in Minneapolis, MN. I chose to commute from Atlanta, GA. I traveled there weekly as well as traveling all of the U.S. for eleven years.

In 1996 we moved to Franklin, TN, to be closer to our children and Grandchildren.

Our children had all settled in Franklin, TN.

In 2001 I retired. I now keep busy with my three children and five grandchildren. I also do some charity work which I love. I even have time for Golf and travel. Ceal and I have been married 46 years. A dream come true.

Ed Boyd, 720 Brittney ct., Franklin, TN 37067 615-591-6998
eboyd61@comcast.net