

Jerry Stapleton

My parents moved from Southfield to Chicago in 1958 so I have lost touch with everyone in our class. I graduated from a series of schools in the process of getting an MD degree finishing in 1965 at the U of Tennessee. I did a residency in ear nose and throat at Vanderbilt Univ. finishing in 1972. Wedged in the middle of all that was 2 years in the US Navy. My wife, Peggy, and I met in college and we married in 1963. We have 3 daughters all married with 5 grandchildren. I practiced medicine for 29 years and then retired. We travel alot and learned to speak french and a little spanish. We bought a house on Hilton Head Island SC 3 years ago and spend a lot of time there with friends and family. Peggy teaches the grand kids music (She was a church musician and choir director for many years) and I run the beach activities when the grandchildren visit us. All of us live in Atlanta and we have a very nice life in Georgia. Both Peggy and I have lived our dreams doing just what we wanted to do. We have been very fortunate.

Unfortunately as things stand I will not be at the class reunion. I have a brother who has been told that he will probably need a kidney transplant sometime this autumn. So I will need to be available to do it if we are a tissue match. I would like to receive the stories about our classmates if possible. I will really miss seeing everyone.
